

Jefferson Scholars Foundation

2018-19 Jefferson National Fellowship Recipients

Opeyemi Akanbi

Ope Akanbi is a Ph.D. Candidate at the Annenberg School for Communication, University of Pennsylvania. Akanbi is the recipient of the Ambrose Monell Foundation Funded Fellowship in Technology and Democracy. Akanbi's dissertation project is titled "Bounding Work: Time, Technology and Labor Regulation." Ope Akanbi's dream mentor will be Margaret O'Mara, professor of history at the University of Washington.

Trish Kahle

Trish Kahle is a Ph.D. candidate in history at the University of Chicago. Kahle's dissertation is titled "The Graveyard Shift: Mining Democracy in an Age of Energy Crisis, 1963-1981." Trish Kahle's dream mentor is Andrew Needham, associate professor of history at New York University.

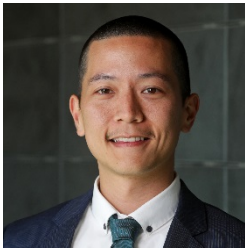

Matthew Lacombe

Matthew Lacombe is a Ph.D. candidate in political science at Northwestern University who studies American politics. Lacombe's dissertation project is titled "Beyond Money: The National Rifle Association and Interest Group Power." Matthew Lacombe's dream mentor is Kristen Goss, Kevin D. Gorter Associate Professor of Public Policy at Duke University.

Justin McBrien

Justin McBrien is a Ph.D. candidate in history at the University of Virginia. McBrien's dissertation project is titled "Making the World Safe for Disaster: Nuclear Weapons Testing and the Politics of Climate Change, 1945-1974." Justin McBrien's dream mentor is John McNeil, professor of history at Georgetown University.

A.J. Murphy

A.J. Murphy is a Ph.D. candidate in history at Columbia University specializing in twentieth century U.S. political economy, the history of social science, and military history. Murphy is the recipient of the Jefferson-Hagley Library Dissertation Fellowship in Business and Politics. Murphy's dissertation project is titled "Business Management Expertise in the Cold War U.S. Military." A.J. Murphy's dream mentor is Jim Sparrow, associate professor of history at the University of Chicago.

Emily Prifogle

Emily Prifogle is a Ph.D. candidate in history at Princeton University studying twentieth-century legal history. Prifogle's dissertation project is titled "Cows, Cars, and Criminals: Rural Communities, Law, and Nation in the Twentieth Century." Emily Prifogle's dream mentor is Barbara Welke, professor of history and professor of law at the University of Minnesota.

Pedro Regalado

Pedro Regalado is a Ph.D. candidate in American studies at Yale University where his interests center on race, immigration, capitalism, and the built environment in 20th century cities. Regalado's dissertation project is titled "Where Angels Fear to Tread: Latina/os, Work, and the Making of New York, 1945-2000." Pedro Regalado's dream mentor is Lizabeth Cohen, Howard Mumford Jones Professor of American Studies at Harvard University.